Identify and manage regulatory updates for a competitive business edge

It's critically important for enterprises to keep track of regulatory changes and how they impact the business. Many firms find that managing constantly changing regulations and laws can be a burden to internal risk and compliance teams—especially when using manual processes.

Edgile's Regulatory Change Management solution provides a closed-loop process to surgically identify necessary changes to policies and controls across the organization. Changes are automatically loaded into the ServiceNow GRC Solution in an easy-to-navigate workflow wizard.

Quarterly updates of new statutes, regulations and standards are provided by Edgile's Automated Regulatory Compliance (ArC) service. Industry-specific ArC app subscriptions reduce the costs of ongoing monitoring while accelerating the surgical identification of impacted areas.

With the Regulatory Change Management app you get:

- Assurance that new laws are onboarded and automatically applied to risk programs.
- Positive confirmation that policies, baselines and controls are compliant with regulations specific to your industry.
