

Edgile Selected to Speak at 2017 FS-ISAC Fall Summit

Firm to Demonstrate Award-Winning Enterprise Risk Methodology and Toolset for Global Banking Compliance Programs

AUSTIN, Texas, September 27, 2017 — Edgile, the leading cyber risk and regulatory compliance partner to the Fortune 500, today announced it will present to financial services executives at the 2017 FS-ISAC Fall Summit, October 1-4, in Baltimore MD. Representing the firm, GRC expert and Edgile Partner David Deckter will discuss the new approach financial services organizations are adopting to ensure pragmatic and defensible risk management for new compliance requirements such as the NY DFS cybersecurity regulations.

“Among financial services IT professionals, timely knowledge about one's enterprise is critical in identifying potential cyber risk gaps and vulnerabilities to sensitive business information,” said David Deckter. “Finding and remediating security and compliance gaps ensures programs, practices, and investments are safeguarded from intrusion—which is essential for enterprise-wide stability and maintaining consumer brand trust.”

Deckter's “Diagnostics Detect, Benchmarking Protects” presentation during the summit's governance track—on Tuesday, October 3 at 10:00 AM EST—will inform financial services professionals about smarter technology-risk diagnostics and control plans that better align with today's dynamic regulatory environment. In addition, Edgile senior executives and consultants will be on-hand at booth #33 to provide insights into how Edgile's award-winning tools and methodology satisfy internal and external organizational compliance requirements.
